THERE are two Feeble-minded Insti-tutes at Frankfort, one of which is the Legislature.

WHITTAKER fired the shot that killed Goebel. Then Comps fired the shot Then Hockersmith fired the shot Then Baker fired the shot. Too many confessions lead to confusion.—Louis ville Post.

You're all wrong, Brother. It was overnor Taylor who struck the Hon-rable William Patterson.

It used to be that a man charged with offense had a right to know the name of his necusor; but Goebelism has changed things in Kenuteky, and now any citizen is subject to arrest and imprisonment without knowing the charge against him of the man who swore out the warrant. We are, indeed, a patient people.

SUPPOSIN'—now, just supposin'—supposin' that the Supreme Court of the United States should declare that there had been no legal election in Kentucky in November last, and that, consequently, neither Taxion nor BECKHAM had a right to the officer of the County of the Co nals at Frankfort!
